Ariela 90 day fiance music video

Ariela and Biniyam are still struggling to adapt to their new life together in Ethiopia. Since moving in together, the 90 Days Fiance: The Other Way couple has been arguing about their living arrangements, their finances, and their newborn baby. But in a recent episode, when Ariela admitted that she goes through Biniyam's phone, she confirmed that the two also have to deal with trust issues. Ariela and Biniyam on 90 Day Fiance: The Other Way | TLC Ariela's mother warned her to look out for Biniyam's female friends on 90 Day Fiance: The Other Way Earlier this season on 90 Day Fiance: The Other Way, Ariela's mother, Janice, visited Ethiopia to meet Biniyam and to make sure her daughter would be well looked after. During her visit, Biniyam invited Janice to perform in a dance club. As he took the stage with one of his dancer ex-girlfriends, Janice noticed how cute she was. Better beware Ari, Janice told Ariela, as Biniyam's provocative performance continued. Especially when he dances at night and you're home alone. RELATED: 90 Day Fiance: The Other Way: Ariela and Biniyam Come to an Agreement on Their Baby's Name and Baptism When in a Confessional, Ariela Revealed Why Biniyam Danced With His Ex. And she admitted that it bothered her from time to time. When I was in the U.S. and far away, Baby and his ex fueled their friendship, and she's his current dance partner, Ariela said. The idea of them dancing together every night, I don't know. — I'm definitely a jealous person. I think anyone who says she's not jealous is a liar. Ariela admits she goes by Biniyam's phone on 90 Day Fiance: The Other Way In a recent episode of 90 Day Fiance: The Other Way, Ariela and Biniyam got into a heated discussion about Biniyam away from home at night. He insisted that he was only working, but Ariela confronted him with the messages from girls she found on his phone. She also revealed that she called one of his recent contacts and heard a female voice on the other side. I recently started going through his phone because he gets a lot of calls from a lot of people, and he has a lot of numbers in his phone, she told producers. But he never explains who they are, or what's going on, as usual. I never considered myself jealous, she added. But Bini really pushes me to the edge sometimes. He always tries to portray me as the bad guy and some kind of b**ch. But he doesn't tell me anything. We don't communicate. We're more roommates with a baby. Biniyam's first marriage ended due to trust issues As evidenced by an early episode of 90 Day Fiance: The Other Way, Biniyam was married to an American woman before meeting Ariela. The couple met in Ethiopia, married and had a son. But as indicated by Biniyam, separated from him because they found messages on his phone from other women. And when he was pushed over the split by Janice, he insisted that he had done nothing wrong. In a post on social media, Biniyam Biniyam to purify the air even further. I want to say that I loved my ex-wife and my family, Biniyam wrote in an Instagram post. I never cheated on her. I never wanted a divorce. The message on my phone was just a hello from an old friend. It was just a reason she had to leave. I still don't understand what happened. Even though I have a new life I'm still confused and still hurt. Every day I miss my son. I haven't seen him in two years. I just want my son. All I need is my son. Fans will get more of Ariela and Biniyam's story to develop as the season continues. New episodes of 90 Day Fiance: The Other Way airs Sundays on TLC. word dollface has long been used as a free term of endearing that old-fashioned gentlemen have historically awarded to their ladies scholarship. When you see a real human woman with the face of a doll, however, as you do in Ikea's latest, the only natural reaction is to shiver up your spine. As a live-action Totlie, the stop motion film that terrified children in the 1980s, the new Ikea video takes place in a doll's house. Created by agency Mother, the new spot is part of a campaign Ikea runs in the UK. entitled Make Small Spaces Big. If there's a better way to explore how spatial economics can improve someone's life at home than super creepy living-doll quarters, I've yet to see it. The video, One Room Paradise, features a re-recording of the same title Aretha Franklin song by up-and-coming singer Elayna Boynton. It is written by scenes of a young girl playing with her one-room dollhouse, a pleasant-enough commentary on the importance of space efficiency. It's the in-between scenes, however, with plasticine pop masks and herky-jerky movements that will give you what David Foster Wallace referred to as the Weeping Fantods. Look at your own risk. 90 Day Fiance couples always start with the best of intentions. They all hope to make things work and end together. Unfortunately, that doesn't always happen, especially when there's a huge age gap between them. Looking at the stats for similar couples on the show, Michael Jessen and Juliana Custodio certainly had the odds stacked against them going into this season of 90 Day Fiance, but that doesn't mean they don't make it work. Juliana Custodio | Instagram: @Michael_jessen_77 Are Jessen and Custodio still together? Beware, there are spoilers for us. Michael Jessen and Juliana Custodio's relationship Jessen's passion for travel led him to an extravagant hunting party in Croatia, where he met Custodio, who worked as an international model. As soon as they met, they clicked. My fiancée's name is Juliana, Jessen told People. She's from Goiania, Brazil. Juliana and I met at a big hunting party that a friend of mine was throwing in Croatia. There were a lot of celebrities there. I remember the first time I saw her. She's beautiful, great body - I don't necessarily believe in love at first but it's like we were kindred spirits, he continued. Jessen then asked Custodio to get a tourist visa and visit him in America. The visa was denied, but that didn't stop the two from trying to find a way to be together. Jessen then proposed to Costodo and applied for the K1 visa, which would allow her to come to the US for 90 days. Now that Custodio is in the US, viewers get to watch her and Jessen's journey as she meets his family and tries to figure out if a relationship with a 20-year age gap can really work. Relationship backlash From the moment the two were announced as a couple for the new season, people started hating on them, saying that Custodio was just in the relationship for the green card or that they could never work with such a huge age gap between them. But Jessen didn't let the naysayers come to him. It has never bothered me because living in it, I understand it, he told E! News. And if I could understand from an outsider's perspective there would be a lot of judging that people would jump at and that doesn't bother me a bit. People are welcome to think, feel what they want. We're together, we love each other, it's very real. We made a very big decision to spend the rest of our lives together. The only person I care about when it comes to how they feel about our relationship is Juliana. Are Michael and Juliana still together? According to a marriage certificate obtained by In Touch, the two actually tied the knot! The wedding took place at Michael's home in Greenwich on Saturday, October 12, a source told the outlet. It was a pretty big ceremony that was filmed and will air in the upcoming episodes. His ex-wife, Sarah, officiated the wedding. And everyone seemed to be in the wedding, including Sarah. Despite what has been reported about her not liking Juliana, her and Juliana get along really well in real life, said the source of Sarah. Sarah has moved on and is engaged to be married. She's happy for Michael that he's found love with Juliana again. The TLC reality series 90 Day Fiance is a huge hit, and if you're new to the show, you wonder how 90 Day Fiance look in order. The Family Chantel A spin-off focused on 90 Day Fiance season four cast members Pedro and Chantel Jimeno and their families.90 Day Fiance: Self-Quarantined Updates on cast members and their relationship status using self-taped footage during the pandemic. B90 Strikes Back! A comment show with Before the 90 Days couples discussing the online comments they have received, as well as the opinions of Pillow Talk. First, welcome to the crazy, ridiculous and completely engaging world of 90 Day Fiance. Your trip to this franchise will have lots of ups and downs, so buckle up! Secondly, this list can look daunting. But that's actually great, considering many of us are still socially distancing ourselves and staying at home as much as we can. There are a lot of episodes to binge on. So, here's the order - plus where you watch 90 Day Fiance online:1. View 90 Fiance seasons 1-4 (Image credit: TLC)The OG series will gently introduce you to the franchise. Season 1 contains only four packages, while later seasons gradually contain more. You'll meet iconic cast members like Russ and Danielle and Mohamed, Melanie and Devar, Jorge and Anfisa, Nicole and Azan and Chantel and Pedro (the latter couple even gets their own spin-off). The stories and backgrounds are varied and interesting. You have huge age differences, religious differences, language barriers, meddling mothers and cheating accusations. But there are also super cute romances, where you find yourself rooting for this couple that somehow found each other all over the world. The first five seasons of 90 Day Fiance are streaming on Hulu.2. Watch 90 Day Fiance: Happily Ever After seasons 1-2First comes love, then comes marriage. Then comes ... Well, for about 90 days couples, divorce. In other cases, the couples remain married, but experience friction on a variety of issues, from family to jobs to culture shocks. The first four seasons of Happily Ever After are streaming on Hulu.3. Watch 90 Day Fiance seasons 5-6Now, continue with the OG series and meet memorable couples Elizabeth and Andrei, Molly and Luis, David and Annie (who remain a big part of Pillow Talk), Colt and Larissa and Kalani and Asuelu. Oh, and best of all, there's more of Nicole and Azan's head-cracking of a relationship. 4. Watch 90 Day Fiance: Happily Ever After seasons 3-4Back for more updates on their married lives are Russ and Paola, Jorge and Anfisa and Chantel and Pedro (see below). This is the time to collect your bets on which couples were really in love.* Pillow Talk season 1 has commented on Happily Ever After season 4, so can be viewed in conjunction with it. Episodes can be streamed on TLC.com, but you need a cable package. 5. Watch The Family Chantel (Image credit: TLC)Over eight episodes, watch Chantel and Pedro's absolutely nutso families continue to collide. No wonder in-laws get such a bad rap. The Chantel family is streaming on Hulu.6. Watch 90 Day Fiance: Before the 90 Days seasons 1-3Perhaps, as you were watching OG 90 Day Fiance, you thought, How did these couples meet and fall in love and decide to get married? Now, you see that process, as Americans travel to meet their online boyfriend/girlfriend. In some cases, it's clear from the get-go that the relationship isn't going to take long enough to make it to the K-1 visa process. But in other cases, the couples cement their first attraction and move forward. The standouts to watch are Paul and Karine, Darcey and Jesse and Angela and Michael.* Pillow Talk season 3 has commentary on Before the 90 Days season 3 and can be viewed in conjunction with it. The first three seasons of Before the 90 Days is streaming on Hulu.7. Watch 90 Day Fiance: The Other Way season 1 (Image credit: TLC)This might be our favorite of the spin-offs, because it puts the shoe on the other foot. Now the Americans are forced to feel like fish out of the water because they're a foreign country to deal with their foreign love. There's another crossover: Paul and Karine from Before the 90 Days, with Paul completely moving to be with his wife. The first season of The Other Way is streaming on Hulu.8. Watch 90 Day Fiance season 7This is the most recent season of the OG show and features a crossover: Angela and Michael from Before the 90 Days. We also love the hot mess that Tania and Synjin, the full language incompatibility of Anna and Mursel and the oddly sweet outcome of Michael and Juliana. The most recent seasons of 90 Day Fiance can be streamed if you sign up for Hulu With Live TV. Hulu + Live TV streams more than 65 channels, including ABC, CBS, Fox and NBC, as well as top cable networks such as TLC, ESPN, Bravo, CNN, FX, Syfy and TBS. And it includes regular Hulu, which comes with a huge library of movies and TV shows. View DealThe next spin-off seasons are also available on-demand on Hulu With Live TV.9. Watch 90 Day Fiance: What Now? The digital series, available TLC.com, includes updates on couples from across the franchise. The most memorable and interesting cast members usually end up on Happily Ever After, so What Now can feel a bit like a run too. Still, maybe you're dying for news about Laura and Aladin, Rebecca and Zied, Rachel and Jon, Steven and Olga and Corey and Evelin. 10. Watch 90 Day Fiance: Self-Quarantined (Image credit: TLC)The coronavirus pandemic forced people across the country to stay home and practice social distancing from others not in their household. So how did the franchise couples fare, given many of them barely knew each other before the K-1 visa process? We're not sure if this miniseries gives honest answers, because the cast members created the images themselves. But it's still an interesting window into their post-show life.11. Watch 90 Day Fiance: Before the 90 Days season 4If you're a fan of Darcey from seasons 1-3 of Before the 90 Days, you're in luck, because she's baaaaaack (still with her season 3 partner, surprisingly!). The couple everyone was talking about on social media is Ed and Rosemarie. No spoilers here, just know that there is a significant difference in their age and physical appearances. There are three 90 Day Fiance shows currently airing on TLC.
